

Who is Jesus! Jesus is the Good Shepherd: An Echo Pantomime!

In the video for Family Sunday School today, Ryan will be our pantomime leader and Allison will be the echo. Please join in with Allison as the echo!

Once there was a shepherd (point to self).

Who was brave (hands on hips).

And kind (hands on heart).

And strong (show muscles).

He worked in the fields beside his sheep (pat sheep).

All day long (use arms to show a big sun in the sky).

The sheep here safe within his care. They didn't have to worry (bite finger nails).

At the break of dawn (rub eyes and stretch).

And end of day (yawn).

He kept a little tally (pretend to count fingers).

Just in case one took too long to get down the valley (give a small scream).

One's missing! One's missing (hold up one finger)!

There are only 99 (hold up nine fingers, two times)!

One's missing! One's missing (hold up one finger)!

There are only 99 (show nine fingers)!

He traced his steps (walk in place).

Across the hills, and down beside the river (indicate flowing water).

And there she was, a tiny lamb (show a small size with your fingers).

Not a tough ewe or ram (show a much larger size).

He gathered her up into his arms (rock like a baby).

Away from the cold and danger (shiver).

And quickly, quickly took her home (walk in place).

Where all the sheep were waiting (say, "baaaa").

Just in case you didn't know (scratch head).

The shepherd here is Jesus (touch middle finger of left hand to palm of right hand, then middle finger of right hand to left palm. Sign language for Jesus).

And he will always bring us home (wave a welcome).

He'll never, never leave us.

Amen!
